There's power in numbers. On March 5th, join people in 450 theatres as CARE and ONE present the documentary film "A Powerful Noise". In many countries around the world, women are still marginalized and given few rights. "A Powerful Noise" presents the stories of three extraordinary women in these places, and follows their efforts to create change. After the film, a town hall discussion live from New York will be simulcast in every theatre. Don't miss "A Powerful Noise". One night only, March 5th. Visit apowerfulnoise.org for tickets.

There's power in numbers. On March 5th, that power will be demonstrated when CARE and ONE present the documentary film "A Powerful Noise"...simultaneously...in 450 theatres across America. This film was inspired by the plight of women around the world. In many countries, women are still marginalized...given few rights...often not even allowed to get an education. "A Powerful Noise" presents the stories of three extraordinary women in these parts of the world, and follows their unbending efforts to overcome hurdles and create change. Immediately after the film, a town hall discussion live from New York will be simulcast in every theatre. As an attendee, you can submit questions to the panel of national and international experts and leaders. Add your voice to the movement to empower women worldwide. Don't miss "A Powerful Noise. The impact of one voice. The power of many." One night only, March 5th, at a theatre near you. Visit apowerfulnoise.org for tickets.
